

Saturday, January 29th 2020

DELIBES NEWS

TEACHING DURING THE PANDEMIC

How M^a José Paniagua became a Primary school teacher

M^a José Paniagua became a teacher because it always was her vocation. As an adult, she cannot think of a different life.

This year because of the pandemic, many things have changed at school: new rules, social distance, disinfection... but students, parents and school staff are being very responsible and aware of the situation we are living under.

During this second term, M^a José has been quarantined with her class, as many other teachers. All of them have been tele-working and sending the weekly schoolwork to their students through Teams, she told us that is a hard work that involves teachers, students and parents too.

A photo of the interview

Victoria Porras Paniagua